ANNOUNCEMENTS

BREED THEATER. "The Long Trail," Strong Indian Drama.

In the strong Indian story of the feature picture for the Broad theater for the remainder of the week is shown the sure and unswerving trail of the frontier. A renegade, Mel, who has killed an old Indian in the attempt to rob his traps, is pursued through summer and winter by two vaqueros. Natchez, the Indian, is an unmountainable obstacle have been overcome Mel is captured and brought back to the post for punishment. The story is told in a most interesting and beautiful way. The picture is a masterpiece of the art of the motion picture.

There is also one of the incomparable comedies of the Biograph company, called "The Midnight Cupid," which tells an interesting story, which is interspersed with excitingly funny incidents and delightful acting. Miss Maudie will appear again in the season's latest offering, "The Frustrated Southerner," and is sure to delight her many hearers.

State Taxes Skipped.

Minnesota is the first in the United States to find that there is so much money in the state treasury that they will be no need of making any more state taxes another year. The state treasury has a surplus of about $1,000,000. It is the first time since 1890 that the state has had a surplus. The surplus is the result of the state's policy of not making any more state taxes. The state's policy is to keep the state's treasury full of money, and to use the money for the state's needs. The state's policy is to keep the state's treasury full of money, and to use the money for the state's needs.

Comfort for Users of Tires.

Owners of automobiles are finding the increasing prices of tires burdensome. There is a probability that the continuous exactions of the tire manufacturers may cut down the sales of motor cars. The tire manufacturers are increasing the price of tires, and this is causing a decrease in the sales of motor cars. The tire manufacturers are increasing the price of tires, and this is causing a decrease in the sales of motor cars.

Maine Factionalism.

It may be doubted whether President Taft's visit in Maine helped the factional situation of the republic in that state. Indeed, there are indications that matters were only made worse. The president's visit to Maine was supposed to help the factional situation of the republic in that state. However, it is now believed that the visit only made matters worse.

It Does Not Pay.

Making a fortune on the stock exchange looks easy as rolling off a log if a man only had money enough to get into the game. The stock exchange is a place where a man can make a fortune, but it is also a place where a man can lose his money. The stock exchange is a place where a man can make a fortune, but it is also a place where a man can lose his money.

Colonist's Three Years Work.

A bright example of what a young man may accomplish within a few years on the land in Australia is furnished by the experience of W. G. Smart, who three years ago took up a selection of 100 acres from the government on the Nambucca river in New South Wales. By working hard and using modern methods, this farmer has one of the great farm exhibits that a farm on rich alluvial soil could produce. He had altogether 274 exhibits in the recent Royal Show. The exhibit included many different things, including a large number of different types of sheep, a large number of different types of cattle, and a large number of different types of pigs.

Warship Depreciation.

In the past 19 years the United States navy has discarded 38 naval vessels. Thirty-two of these have been sold for a total of $266,779.41, and the others were a total loss. The whole cost of the government's fleet of ships is $1,000,000,000. The cost of the government's fleet of ships is $1,000,000,000. The cost of the government's fleet of ships is $1,000,000,000.

Jeff's Winning Fight.

In any event, Jeffries is sticking to his determination not to talk rather more respectfully and successfully than to the colonel at Sagamore Hill. Jeffries is sticking to his determination not to talk rather more respectfully and successfully than to the colonel at Sagamore Hill.

LARGEST ODD FELLOWS' LODGE.

Nosahogon of Waterbury Leads the State—800 Members and $30,000 in Treasury.

Nosahogon lodge, No. 21, I. O. O. F., of Waterbury, is the largest lodge of Odd Fellows in Connecticut, and it is the third largest in the world. On the roster of the lodge 800 names are now enrolled and more applications for membership are being filed at every meeting. It is probably the richest lodge in the country, as it has over $30,000 in the treasury. It is one of the largest supporters of the Odd Fellows' home at Groton, contributing large sums annually for its maintenance.

Nosahogon lodge was instituted in Waterbury July 1846, by Grand Master John L. Devotion. The lodge was composed of charter members who had withdrawn from the Ouseatic lodge, No. 5, of Birmingham. A meeting was held the same evening and ten candidates were elected. The lodge has since then continued to grow, and it is now one of the largest and most prosperous lodges in the world.

Swallows at St. Bernard's.

An accident has just occurred at St. Bernard's hospital which would have delighted St. Francis of Assisi, the friend of nature, could he have beheld it. Thousands of swallows were on their way to Switzerland when they were overtaken by terrible weather. After a heroic struggle they returned to the hospice and placed themselves in the care of the monks. They did not appear in pain and were to be found in the kitchen, the dormitory, the monks' cells, the salon of the guest house, and even in the chapel. The doctors were amazed at the inviolation of the chapel, but the little feathered ones were oblivious. Then the doctor's blade overhauled and the swallows were thoroughly done.
